The Hernid's New Orleans special says: The Radical Republish State Convention adjoarned sine die last Saturday night, after endorsing the following platform:

"We advocate and will enforce perfect equity under the law, to all men without distinction of race or color; endorse the acts of the Thiery-ninth and Fortleth Congress; will reconstruct Louislana upon the Congress; will reconstruct the congress only true and logal men; nominations for office to be made only of those who caloree perfect equality and right to hold office increased and the right to vote and enter the jury-box without any educational or property qualifications being required; also the right to practice all professions, to buy, sell, travel and be entertained and to enter into any and all civil contracts. We will advocate the granting of immediate assistance to the general Government for rebuilding the leves. We will also advocate lumineration and division of the lands of the State, as far as practicable, into small farmy in order that the masses of our people may be enabled to hecome land-holders. We will advocate the able of the complete of the productive wealth of the Union; let products of agriculture, mines and namefacture equality in schools and in the enforcement of the eight hour system, oxcopi in cases of especial contract. We will haste on a thorough revision of the laws of Louisinaa, that they may guarantee equality in schools and in the enforcement of the eight hour system, oxcopi in cases of especial contract. We will haste on a thorough revision of the laws of Louisinaa, that they may guarantee equality and fairly taxed. We will advocate the major property protected; declare and louisine of the public debt.

The platform further condemns Johnson's amency proclumation, believing the disformachiement of rebells to be the highest duty of the feature of lovernment; favors the maiornance of an adequate military force in Louisinaa to see the laws enforced and life and property protected; declares that no man is to be supported for offi

A number of witnesses tentified as to facts connected with the assassination of President Lincoln, but the evidence developed nothing against the prisoner.

Joseph Drye, a recruting Sergeant, testified on April Lith, 1850. Witness belonged to Battery C, Penusylvania Artillery, and was stationed at Camp Barry, about two miles from Ford's theatre; witness and Sergeant Robert Cooper were in town on the night of the nurder; at the time of the nurder witness was its nn oyster saloon; went there from Ford's theatre at half-past nine o'clock; Sergeant Cooper was in company with witness; was sixting on some plank in front of the theatre was lighted by a lamp; while witness was sixting there Cooper was walking up and down; while there parties came out of the theatre was lighted by a lamp; while witness was sixting there Cooper was walking up and down; while there parties came out of the theatre and aw does into the saloon witness overbeard a conversation there; witness know J. Wilkes Booth was one of the persons entering into that conversation; the first that appeared was J. Wilkes Booth conversing with a fow villanous looking person at the ond of the passage; it was hut a moment before another person folined them and entered into content provided the persons entering into that conversation; the first that appeared was J. Wilkee Booth conversing with a fow villagous tooking person at the end of the passage; it was but a nonement before another person joined them and entered into conversation; this person was neatly dressed; the crowd then came from the theatre and Booth remarked: "I suppose he will come out now;" as witness supposed, reterring to the President; the parties in conversation then ran to where the President was to pass and watched eagerly for his appearance; he did not come, and one of them examined the carriage and Booth went in the restaurant and remained there long enough to take a drink; came out, stepped from the street into the passage leading to the stage; he appeared in a moment again; the party move mentioned was neatly dressed, stepped up and called the time for Booth from the clock in the restaurant and remained the moved up Tenth street to H street; he did not remain long, out came down again, stepped in from of the theatre, looked at the clock, called time again, looking directly at Booth and his companion, and being somewhat excited he turned on his heel again and went back towards H street. It was then that witness thought something was wrong; witness carried a revolver and had a handkerender wrapped around it; his enspicions were so aroused that he undid the handkerelief from about the revolver; it was not long before a well dressed man eame again from the direction of H street; the man stood in tront of the theatre and the light shone full in the face; there was pictured is his countenance great excitement and exceeding palences, and told them for the third time the hour; it was ten minutes past ten of clock; witness swears that at this time it was ten minute to ten; it was ten minutes and istinctly?

Answer—Very distinctly.
